The Ministry of War of the Jewish entity announced the opening of a pavilion at the Marrakech Air Show 2026, marking its first official participation in a defense exhibition in Morocco. It stated that eight military companies of the entity are showcasing technologies it described as advanced and battle-tested during the exhibition's events, which continue until Saturday, October 10th.

In Gaza, there is slaughter, killing, starvation, and genocide, while in Morocco, the killer parades his weapons of genocide and imports his military companies to establish them there—transforming it into a factory for his war production and a supply base for his war against the children of Islam!

The national state established by colonialism in Morocco and its agent regime are steeped in treachery, and Morocco's relations with the Jewish entity are part of its political agency. It has dedicated itself to providing the Jews with the means to occupy Palestine and desecrate Al-Masjid Al-Aqsa by facilitating the migration of Moroccan Jews to the land of Palestine in what was called Operation Yachin (the migration that took place between 1961 and 1964). This was followed by security and intelligence cooperation between the regime and the Jewish entity, which began in 1963 and has not ceased to this day. Then came the public meeting in the 1980's with the Jewish entity's Prime Minister Shimon Peres in Morocco on 22 July 1986, which the then U.S. President Ronald Reagan described as a historic meeting.

Subsequently, the Moroccan regime acted as the godfather of the treachery of "peace" between Egypt and the Jewish entity, with the Fes Palace serving as its incubator. Then, on 1st September 1994, Morocco and the Jewish entity announced the establishment of liaison offices in Rabat and Tel Aviv. In October 1994, the Moroccan regime hosted the Middle East and North Africa Economic Conference in Casablanca, attended by officials from the entity, led by Peres. Then, on 22 December 2020, the tripartite declaration was signed under American sponsorship between Morocco and the entity in Rabat as part of the Abraham Accords process, and diplomatic relations took on their comprehensive official character. Flights officially resumed, and Jews flocked for tourism and relaxation from the killing and genocide of the Muslims of the occupied Blessed Land of Palestine. Visits by entity officials then followed in succession, and agreements proliferated, covering all fields. In August 2021, Yair Lapid, its Foreign Minister, visited Rabat and met his counterpart Nasser Bourita. The discussions included activating institutional cooperation in the sectors of tourism, aviation, agriculture, energy, innovation, and investment. In November 2021, a memorandum of understanding for defense cooperation between Morocco and the Jewish entity was signed during the visit of the Jewish entity's war minister Benny Gantz to Morocco as part of a strategic defense partnership. In 2022, military and economic cooperation between the regime and the entity was expanded through high-level military visits and communications, including a visit by the Chief of Staff of the Jewish entity, Aviv Kochavi, to Morocco, and a visit by Morocco's Inspector General of the Royal Armed Forces, Belkhir El Farouk, to the Jewish entity.

Since the outbreak of the war on Gaza on 7 October 2023, a shocking, treacherous paradox has emerged, embodied by the continuation—and even growth—of official relations and economic and defense cooperation. A report by the Heritage Foundation on the Abraham Accords over five years confirmed the increase in the value of goods trade between the Jewish entity and Morocco during the war on Gaza and the genocide of its people. Even more appalling are documented instances of commercial ships docking at Moroccan ports in 2024 and 2025 carrying military supplies for the Jewish occupation army in support of its genocide campaign.

Then the Moroccan regime raised the banner of betrayal, donned its cap, and announced in September 2026 the opening of an embassy for the Jewish entity, following a meeting between Nasser Bourita and Gideon Sa'ar in New York under American sponsorship. With this, the reality of bilateral military-defense cooperation and the meaning of the strategic partnership between them was laid bare: it is the localization of the Jewish entity's war production on Moroccan soil, transforming it into a manufacturing, production, and military supply base for the Jewish entity. This is achieved through producing munitions, equipment, and drones linked to its weaponry. Military agreements have proliferated, accompanied by the establishment of factories for its war production in Morocco: the Defense Cooperation Agreement in 2021, the Industrial Cooperation Memorandum with the Jewish entity's Aerospace Industries company in 2022, and then its companies established factories in Morocco. Reuters reported the existence of a facility specialized in weapon systems in the Midparc zone near Casablanca, a project for producing munitions in Sidi Yahya, and a project for a factory producing Spy-X model drones linked to the company BlueBird Aero Systems in the city of Benslimane.

This military localization also encompasses command, control, communications, computers, and intelligence (C4I) systems—a step that moves beyond the production of ammunition, equipment, and drones into the most sensitive and dangerous security domain. It constitutes a complete security exposure before the entity.

Therefore, strategically, this military localization of the Jewish entity in Morocco must be viewed as an attempt to contain its suffocating strategic security dilemma, stemming from its small geography where its population, infrastructure, vital facilities, energy and transportation hubs are concentrated in a very narrow geographical space, making them exposed targets and soft underbellies. Additionally, the Jewish entity suffers from a severe lack of strategic depth, with short and intertwined distances between its borders and population centers, economic and military hubs, and vital facilities. This presents a structural defensive dilemma concerning the distance and time available to absorb military shocks, and the narrow margin for maneuver and response. This dilemma is exacerbated by the development of long-range missiles and drones, as well as its hostile Islamic surroundings, which form a lethal geopolitical ring that exhausts all fronts once activated. Its strategic vulnerability and security fragility were exposed in the face of missiles and drones. Thus, its objective in military localization in Morocco is to establish an auxiliary industrial and strategic depth to secure its vital needs and supply its military during wartime.

The Marrakech Air Show this time came as an official announcement of the localization of the Jewish entity's military production operations within Moroccan facilities, which was translated by the participation of its major military companies.

Thus, in a dark betrayal, the war production of the Jewish entity is being localized in Morocco under the guise of domestic manufacturing, transferring its weapons factories to Morocco and converting it into a base for war production, supplying it with its tools of genocide through a soft usurpation of the land of Islam, Morocco.

So today, this treacherous regime seeks to transform Morocco into an industrial and strategic hinterland for the Jewish entity, turning the sons and daughters of Muslims in Morocco into conscripts in its occupying army—manufacturing and developing its ammunition, weapons, and equipment to wage genocide on their own brothers in Gaza, the West Bank, Lebanon, Yemen, Ash-Sham (the Levant), Iraq, and the rest of the lands of Islam.

What a source of loss and ruin the regimes of treachery and disgrace have brought you, O sons and daughters of Islam! Your salvation lies only in Islam—by implementing its Shariah and establishing its state—or your loss and ruin lie in your submission to the regimes of treachery and disgrace!
